What Price Glory . . .

Was the 1948 Wartburg College homecoming a complete success? Aside from the fact that a sprint run high, competition of a football game was excellent, and the share of fame was wanted to did the students of Wartburg College get off of homecoming what they put into it?

What about those organizations that spent all Saturday morning trying to make their floats beautiful—bringing out the best in their members, and the best in the community, and several others. A half hour of exhibition—to be told up—without even honorable mention for their work.

And what if the students remained at work on homecoming instead of having fun? They had too much testing during the homecoming week? Those few professors who postponed their tests are to be commended for their share in bringing about a better homecoming.

Did the judges of the homecoming give the students the credit of judgment only regarding confections, to study—did decorations catch their eye? Or didn't they find all the rooms in the dormitories?

We students tried our best to make homecoming a success—especially for those goals which we set before us—only to find that other standards seem to have been set before some of the faculty and judges. We do want to work hard for Wartburg—but we want to know what we're supposed to work for!

—J.E.M.—

Are You Missing Something?

Homecoming is over. Its festivities offer us students the greatest social challenge of the year. How did You come through?

Did you make some of the fun you might have had, because you were not sure that your manners were acceptable to others or because you came up against a social situation which you did not know how to handle? In either instance an attack of that common disease, self-consciousness, is inevitable.

Just telling people about social usage isn't enough! The arrangement and carrying out of homecoming dates was proof enough of that statement. Although a minority, there are students in the campus who have good taste, good manners, or character, yet don't participate at all. To those these words are directed: "It isn't the original cost of ignorance that matters—it's the upkeep." Many more jobs are lost by social inexperience than a lack of skill.

It's only after we observe the mistakes and the mistakes of others, that we realize how socially inadequate we are. But still, some of us, when we meet with an unpleasant situation with which we cannot cope will excuse our petty failures by excusing ourselves, and then doing something to explain the cause for our break of good manners.

Good manners—well-behaved behavior, based on the kind of heart and the content of the mind in which they originate—will always be appreciated. We do not hope to live in a civilization such as ours, if we used to consider fellow men as only a means to advance in social or material prominence. Remember that you will meet the same people again, and the leaders of society that you met on the way up. Will the people you are associating with now be willing to help you when you are older?

Let's form our good manners as good habits today, so that we will always be serviceable tools with which to fashion friends today, friends in the future; and friends forever.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

In the Sept. 11 issue of the Trumpet a public opinion column was published on the subject of Frank Sturz.

Last week the writer of this column mentioned that a former Wartburg student now in the military, working in California, had written him that he had been to Sturz and Crosby, in which he gave his opinion.

We're not going to tell you who wrote the letter, but we do know that the author of the column feels for himself if there isn't a lot of honest information in the letter.

It is the opinion of the author that the letter is from Los Angeles.

Oct. 5, 1948.

Dear Editor:

When I received your letter I was very interested in the Wartburg "Trumpet" I can assure an anonymous reader that I am not the author of the letter to whom you refer.

I am a former Wartburg student and I am now teaching in California.

It has been my good fortune to have the opportunity of both seeing and hearing Sturz and Crosby.

I might be able to throw a little light on the subject.

First of all, I believe we all have to admit that both of these men are outstanding in their fields.

"Homecoming Grand--But It's Lots of Work"

In your opinion, was homecoming a success? What did you think of the decision to have it Saturday? Show the parade, the room judges, the football game? Did it serve the purpose? Did you think homecoming came off well? What about the banquet? These were the opinions asked in this week's student opinion poll.

After reading this column, you will see that the answer is probably yes, though there were some other answers. However, this is a student opinion poll and not a survey of a good share of the students' bodies, so it is not representative of the whole student body.

Lorraine Laabs: Generally Homecoming was a success. But the parades decisions were bad. I think those organizations that participated did a good job, but their float pretty and stuck to the theme of the theme.

John Schmid: I think the football game could have been canceled. (You were surprised at the number of junior class, E. T. A., who attended.) The girls were very pretty.

Melvin Kramer: I think Homecoming was a success. Good decisions were O. K. and the skirts were nice. We were able to make more traps than last year winning rooms in the boys' dorm (Last year we had only one) so I consider this condonable.

Andy Lehmann: Homecoming was good. I thought the T. A. float was the best and the girls had been given a good time. Room judges was O. K.

Fred Schmid: I think the Homecoming was a success under the present conditions. I thought the football game was better.

Mrs. Laabs: The parade was good as a whole. But an even greater fact the floats were to be judged on the theme of "Home and Country." I think there were some floats that did not get prizes just because they were good.

Easy Hauer: The banquet was good. Why don't we do this more often?

Alfred Grischinski: Personally I think the Homecoming was a success. However I don't believe the room judges have an appreciation of what the students want. And for the floats, I don't think judges should judge them over the telephone.

Lee Regalado: I thought it was good.

KNIGHTS START CAGE PRACTICE

With one determineing game from the regular season the Wartburg Knights began basketball practice on October 12. It is planned for a six-week period to begin sometime in the last part of November.

Merle Kiser, a center from Fremont, was named captain. In the second column last year it was the only remaining member of the team. Coach and Assistant Coach Frelinghuysen are expecting several new players to come in and a good representation from the freshman class and transfer students.

John and Paul Keeler from Jamestown, N.D., and Jim Oberholzer, Oconto, Wis., James Bergert, Albert Lea, Minn., and Fred W. Vold, Waukesha, all recently mentioned from the freshman class and transfer students.

Newcomers from the local area:

The following schools have been selected to play the Wartburg basketball season:

Sept. 18--Upper Darby, Pa.
Sept. 25--Drexell Hill, Pa.
Oct. 1--Dover, Del.
Oct. 8--Delaware, Del.
Oct. 15--Wilmington, Del.

Games to be arranged with Western Union, Buena Vista, Cornell, and St. Olaf colleges.

Behind The Varsity

LOOKING BACK

Homecoming is over but Wartburg JJD had a football game--a distinction that few low Conference schools can claim. The first official exhibition of football despite the cold weather. We're sorry that we misinformed you about our Saturday opponent. It won't happen again.

The Navy had had a long time off and were not in top shape.

They may have scoring strategy and have been playing with more opportunities to score.

It wasn't until the middle of the fourth quarter when the winners counted their touchdown.

Herman Mauer had scored a long one to make the final 14-0.

Then after two more quarters

John Tamm to Kleen in the end zone for the touch-down. The try for extra point failed.

It's hard to pick out individual stars. Last Saturday's contest was so uneven that most of the running down passes and runs.

Merle Kiser, a back from Marion, Iowa, and Fred Koch, a back from New Hampton, Iowa, were the best backs.

Tommy Gandy, a back from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Carl Clegg, a back from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, were the best backs.

Both of them were disappointed that Wartburg couldn't be represented at the meet that year but they certainly made the best of the situation. I still believe that if there would have been as much enthusiasm as there was at Wartburg this fall, we would have had almost a full schedule. That willingness to compete won't be wasted though. I'd like to see mighty handy when basket ball rolls around.

LOOKING AHEAD

Speaking of basket ball, when Wartburg's first 1943 varsity team will take the floor isn't far off. It seems strange to talk about basketball at this time of the year and Doc warned the boys not to get too excited about it yet, but nevertheless, the first practice was Tuesday night.

It's hard to believe that the first practice in the Conference this year but the practice aren't so bad.

Merle Kiser, tanky pivot from Ponca City, is the only lettered back in the line-up. Koch, a back from Western Union, Iowa, and Mauer has at his Texas Lutheran.

The freshman prospects are only fair, but some of Rose's B team members are back and will help out considerably.

We do a little shooting but I don't think that the last practice counts. Wartburg's five win six conference games and finished the season with four straight wins.

That was back in 1938 just after Wartburg had joined the Iowa Conference. This year's Wartburg will have to go through the shooting streak intact!

The complete basket ball schedule hasn't been arranged, but it will be ready in the next future.

Girls I've Left Behind

Or Why I'm a Wolf

There are, I suppose, thousands of young girls who like me--more or less--but, I am afraid, not many day by day.

Our girls, though, are the ones unable to find the young lady who now takes me for instance.

Now take me for instance.

I'm twenty-one, just in the prime of my life.

I really confess that I know of my mind, and the draft board has put me in the Wartburg with an education that will not be given to me again.

It would support two dignitaries, and three or four in plenty of comfort, and I could buy what I want.

Then one night, as I was helping her on with her evening wrap,

she said, "I wish you would be a man."

My mother said, "I wish you would be a man."
